I. E. WHITWORTH.

Unworthy of Americans.

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)

In his Los Angeles speech the President answered conclusively the objection to the peace covenant that it gives Great Britain an advantage over the United States because through the admission of Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India to the assembly of the League of Nations Great Britain has six votes to our one.

Great Britain hasn't six votes in the League of Nations in the true sense of the word votes. Her colonies have a voice in the assembly, which has actual power only in the matter of admitting members. It is a body for the discussion of questions affecting the world's welfare, a parliament without the power of making laws to be enforced. It can recommend only.

The council is the executive body of the League and exercises all the powers delegated to the League by the nations. In that body Great Britain has one vote. Each nation has one vote. All are on an equality. Our assent is necessary to any procedure affecting our interest. The vote of the council must be unanimous. Without entering into a discussion of the council's powers, which are limited, and which do not impair the sovereignty of any nation, the fact of equal voice in the action of the council is clear as day.

Mr. Wilson pointed out that Cuba and Panama, over which our influence is paramount, have a voice in the assembly. Would we have these proteges of ours cut out of all representation in the League of Nations to guarantee justice and peace? Australia, New Zealand, Canada, South Africa and India have made great contributions and suffered heavy sacrifices in the war. Their forces have stood with our men against imperialism and militarism and were in the fight for justice and liberty long before we were. All except India, which is getting self-government in rapidly increasing measure, are practically independent, self-governing nations. They are progressive people, nearer to our ideas, ideals, methods and purposes than to Great Britain's.

Can we afford to cut these progressive, free peoples, linked to the British empire by slender cords, from the councils of an assembly of nations? Can we afford to be that narrow? Can their liberal, progressive influence upon a League of Nations and their voice in the assembly of the League be spared?

The objection to their admission to the assembly is a petty, narrow and mean one, although not so sordid as Senator Johnson's appeal to intense selfishness in his argument that, being the only solvent going nation among a lot of bankrupts in the world, we ought to make the best of our advantage; instead of helping other nations to get on their feet we should exploit them and prey upon their weakness. Mr. Wilson properly designated this proposal as "hideous." Both are unworthy of Americans who cherish a hope of a better world, in which there will be sympathetic understanding, cordial relations and earnest co-operation to attain common ends for the welfare of mankind.

Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness.

Bankers throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District have been formally notified by the Federal Reserve Bank at St. Louis of the policy of the United States Treasury Department whereby it has been determined to issue for the benefit of banks and investors generally treasury certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $300,000,000 paying in the first issue, or issues, 4½ percent interest, maturing in five months and carrying unusually attractive tax exemption privileges.

Treasury certificates, which at the beginning of America's participation in the war were common, have now come to be appreciated by a large and steadily increasing class of investors; further the records show that many banks (fearing loss of deposits and therefore loath to sell the certificates to their customers, have fully reached the realization of the wisdom and advantage of buying and distributing these securities. The banking institutions, having availed themselves of the privilege of becoming depositaries of the proceeds of the certificates purchased, found ample compensation in the resulting increase in their deposits. The certificates of the new series are to be put out twice a month, instead of bi-weekly (without reference to the calendar month) as formerly. The first series is dated August 1, 1919, with the maturity date of January 2, 1920, and with a minimum issue of $400,000,000.

According to the decision of Secretary of the Treasury Glass, the minimum amount of each semi-monthly offering will not in any case exceed $500,000,000, and after September and for the remainder of the calendar year ought not on the average to exceed $250,000,000. In arriving at the allotments the United States Treasury has decided that in August and September each bank should handle a volume of certificates of each of the semi-monthly issues equal to 1.6 percent of its gross resources, the banks thus being enabled to make general and timely distribution of their investments. During the remainder of the year the ratio will be eight-tenths of 1 per cent, as the needs of the Treasury will then be less.

Missouri's New Egg Law.

The law of this State controlling traffic in eggs was passed for the purpose of taking out of commerce eggs unfit as human food. The legislature passed two separate laws, House Bill 677 known as the Uniform Good Egg Law, and House Bill 833 known as the Egg Breaking Law, controlling Egg Breaking Establishments. Both of these acts forbid the keeping, offering for sale, storing, shipping or having in your possession eggs that are unfit for human food, unless they are cased and sealed with proper identifying strips to be shipped to tanners for tanning purposes only, or broken in the shell and denatured. A small amount of coal oil added to these eggs renders them unfit for human food and does not prevent them from being used for stock or poultry.

Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying eggs in this state for resale consignee shall provide and maintain an adequate place for the accurate candling of eggs, and a suitable place for the proper handling of eggs which are intended for human food. A complete and accurate candling record must be kept in such form as will show when and where and for whom the eggs were candled, how many were in the shipment, what the dockage was in each lot and how many candled out as unfit for human food; disposition of bad eggs as well as disposition of good eggs. Eggs, if candled and kept in a cool dark place and shipped within five days, need not be recandled.

This Department is using every effort to notify all concerned of this law, and is allowing a reasonable time for all to procure a license, and those persons who deal in eggs after such time has elapsed and who do not canddle, do so at their own risk, as the law will be rigidly enforced. The intent of the law is to prevent unwholesome eggs from being placed upon the market for human food, and also to prevent candling out good eggs under the pretext that they are bad eggs, and then putting these candled eggs on the market for good eggs. Therefore, under the proper construction of House Bill 677, known as the Uniform Good Egg Law, and House Bill 833, known as the Egg Breaking Law, controlling Egg Breaking Establishments, this Department forbids the return to any farmer or other person of eggs that are not fit for human food, unless they are broken or denatured, as the law requires.

Candling certificates must be used, and must be pasted on the top flap or pasteboard cover on the top layer of each and every case of eggs, and also on the outside of each case of eggs, thus preventing its loss when the case is opened.

How They Get Business.

(Sikeston Herald.)

Does advertising pay? Ask any clerk at the Sikeston post office; he will tell you with an emphatic "yes" that it does.

And this is why he knows: Last Sunday he helped to handle 257 five-pound catalogues for Sears & Roebuck. This bit of advertising matter came to Sikeston on Sunday and furnished a nice recreation for the post office—a great day of rest.

How much do you suppose Sears & Roebuck paid to advertise their wares in Sikeston? We do not know, but we imagine a five pound book costs them considerable, even tho they were printed by the hundred thousand. The blank paper in each book cost not less than fifty cents each. That is not counting the cost of printing and handling, or preparing copy, cuts and other expense attached to issuing a big catalogue.

But did it pay? The local post-office clerk who handles the money orders says the buying of money orders for Sears & Roebuck began early Monday morning and has continued ever since.

Of course it paid. Advertising always pays.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidneys and calls for prompt treatment. The best recommended remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by this nearby resident's experience:

Mrs. L. E. Jenkins, Fredericktown, Mo., says: "On several occasions, Doan's Kidney Pills have proven successful when I have needed them. Whenever I have taken cold, it has settled in my back and has caused me awful pains. My back has become weak and I have had a great deal of misery until I would use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's always proved beneficial and gave me relief. I generally keep Doan's on hand now."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jenkins had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Obituary.

We will try and give a short sketch of one of our early citizens, Polley Dunn. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Matkins, born December 6th, 1855, on Marble Creek, in Iron County, and spent practically all of her life on the old home place. Being one among the number of a large family of fourteen children she enjoyed life with her brothers and sisters at home in that good old fashion way until, like birds flown from the nest and mated off. She was united in marriage to Randle Dunn, who preceded her about seventeen years, leaving five children to her care, to which her life was devoted that she might teach them in the way they should go.

She professed a hope in Christ at the age of 34 years and being true to

Try One Brunswick Then Decide

The best way to know for yourself the superiority of the Brunswick Tire is to buy one and compare it.

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire.

Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the best—a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

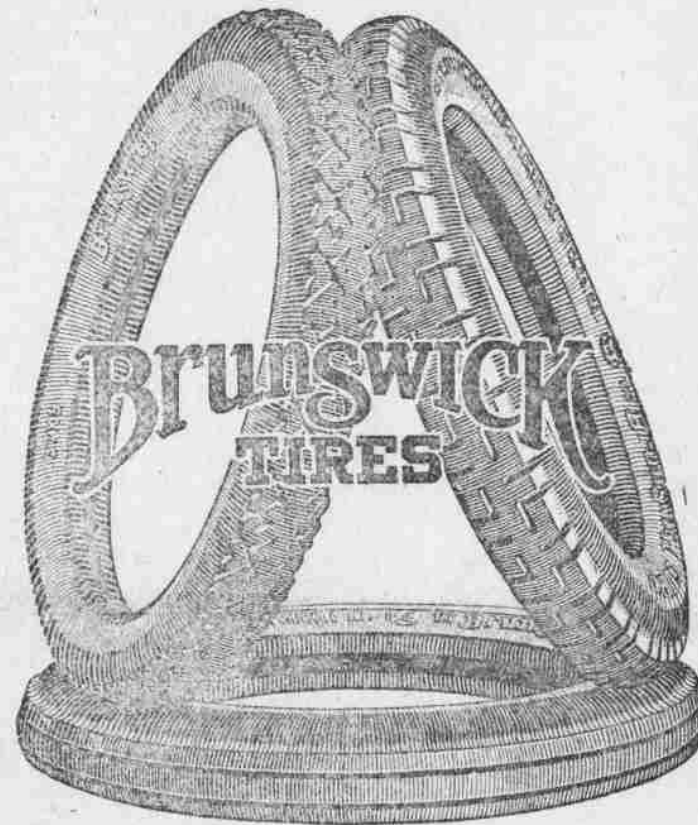

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

No concern with such a history could afford to offer anything but the best. For reputations are built slowly, but can be quickly destroyed.

This is a practical guarantee that Brunswick Tires offer more than the usual, yet at no added cost.

Get your first one now. You'll not be satisfied until you have ALL Brunswicks.

her Master she put her trust in Him through the hard struggle of life to help her to rear her children, which he did and she brought them all up to be grown, until they too began to fly away. No one knows but a mother the sadness of heart and the melancholy days of a desolate home where once she saw all of her children's tracks, and heard their merry voices as they sang or ring out their play. But she went through with this, as all mothers do, and settled down with her youngest son, who said, "I will not forsake my mother for another," and they lived happy together until God said "I must try my servant's faith a little further, and called her son, who laid the hammer upon the anvil and closed the shop door, and not being satisfied with his life he said, "I will go in search of health." But made it known to his brother that there was a pearl of great price that he desired more than health, and bidding his mother and brothers and sisters goodbye, he went to another county and there it seems that he brought every path of his past life and laid them down at the foot of the cross and found the hidden treasure and then returned back to his people and told his sister he was ready to answer when they called his name, and passed away the last day of last November, 1918, from that time on his mother became wearied of this life and was not satisfied anywhere as to this life but willing to bear her cross.

A short time ago she seemed to have some warning to go and visit all her children and people she could, and she went—visited her two brothers and the graveyard last. But kept those things in her heart until she went upon her bed to die, at the home of her daughter, Samantha Workerburger, where she suffered and conquered the last enemy, death, and went out to meet her God in triumph of a loving faith. She told her children and friends that gathered around her bed that she was ready and wanted to go meet her Savior first of all. So on the 12th day of September, 1919, when at evening the sun goeth down, her soul took its flight and her body was laid to rest in the Marble Creek Cemetery, at the age of 64 years, nine months, 6 days, to await the judgment when soul and body will be re-united.

She leaves three daughters, one son, two brothers and many other relatives and friends to mourn her departure. But God knoweth all things best and doth all things well!

A FRIEND.

Proposed Increase in Pensions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 19.—The House Pension Committee reported favorably today a bill granting a minimum monthly pension of $50 to veterans of the war between the states.

Their widows would receive $30 a month, and their children under 16 years old would receive $6 a month, while nurses would receive $30. The measure would add $65,000,000 to the pension roll in its first year.

The bill would grant $72 monthly to all totally disabled veterans and $90 to those who suffered such disability in service.
